Parties unite, express ideas through forum

by Lori Edwards

Thirty-one candidates for student government offices participated Monday in a student election forum which approximately 70 students attended.

Karen Wessel, student awareness committee chairman, said she was "very pleased" by both student and candidate turnout.

Former student body president Joe Butler, who attended the forum, said the Wednesday elections should be "great. It's about time we've had contested elections."

He added that many past elections would have been uncontested "without me and my friends."

Students trying to capture Butler's old position used the forum opportunity to inform students how they stood on issues, and in one case, to forge political ties.

Jon Frenza, previously running with the Bhopal party, announced his withdrawal from the student body president race, and that backers of Bhopal should align themselves with the Justice League.

"First, students should not vote for Bhopal; second, they should vote for Dane (Buczowski)," Frenza said. Buczowski, a former Butler supporter, is a presidential candidate on The Justice League slate.

Frenza, appearing with both Buczowski and Butler, said the new coalition will be called The Justice League for Bhopal.

"The party ideologies have converged as one," Frenza, who has been offered an advisory position on the newly formed party, said.

However, elections committee co-chairman, Larry Markey said neither Frenza's name nor party can be removed from the ballot.

The other presidential candidates at the forum remained true-to-form with earlier campaign pledges.

Dan Zicarelli, the only presidential candidate running without a party, said he was not spending any money campaigning, and he will not campaign because he will not "sell" himself.

Ron Wesel, Quality student body president candidate, said he had new ideas for students, including an academic dismissal review board and 15-minute parking spaces located throughout campus.

He added that instead of raising fees or cutting services to students, the university should "do more with less money."

Floyd Akins, running for student body president with TIME, said he would like to see security and shuttle bus plans implemented on campus.

He added the funding for the programs could come from the $120,000 Apportionment Board reserve.

However, administration sources and students involved with student government have said the reserve can only be used for student activities and organizations.

University Professionals proposal turned down for lack of consensus negotiators for the University Professionals of this won't bring a proposal to create an academic union to the bargaining table this year.

Maureen Foertsch

The idea for the proposal, heavily criticized by many of Eastern's faculty members, fell by the wayside during a weekend UPI meeting in Joliet to discuss the contract UPI negotiators will bring to the bargaining table April 24.

The proposal died because of a lack of consensus among the elected union delegates from the five schools of Governors schools, Carol Elder, UPI chief negotiator and executive vice president for the BOP of UPI, said Monday.

Consensus could not be reached concerning how to give faculty more power in academic decision making could be implemented, she said.

The proposal in the original contract draft called for the elimination of the Faculty Senate and the creation of a new body on Academic Affairs. Those bodies would be replaced by a senate with proportional representation of instructors, resource professionals and academic staff professionals from each department.

Under the rejected proposal, the actions of the academic senate would not be subject to veto power of the university president.

"There was agreement on the main goal which was to strengthen faculty decision-making power in academic areas and that it should be done through faculty governance groups," Elder said.

"When we go into negotiations it's important to have agreement—that proposal had the potential to be divisive. We'll work for consensus on a proposal to gain more faculty decision making power in academic areas before we re-negotiate the contract 'years from now,'" she said.

Faculty Senate Chairman Ken Sutton could not be reached for comment Monday.

Richard Goodrick, former senate chairman, said he was pleased with the removal of the article. "I don't think it should have been in the original proposal," Goodrick added that he did not believe the proposal would increase faculty decision-making

Weaver wants voting student member on BOG panel

Allen

Illinois State Rep. Mike Weaver, R-Ill., said Monday he will try to get higher education legislation to include a voting student member on the Board of Governors.

It stands now, Illinois Senate bill currently in committee, would put a voting member on the Board of Governors. The BOR governs Illinois State University, Northern Illinois University and Sangamon State University.

Weaver, a first-term member of the Senate Committee on Higher Education, said in a telephone interview Monday he would attempt to tack onto the bill a provision which would place a voting student member in the BOG as well.

Student Senate speaker Ron Wesel met with Weaver in March, and said if the BOG amendment is passed, the BOG student representatives would elect one member among themselves to serve as the voting member to BOG.

"I think it's a very logical option," Weaver said. "I knew that Eastern had a representative on the BOG, but I didn't know he wasn't a voting member."

"It seems that just about everything the BOG does has a direct bearing on the students. . . I can't see where they shouldn't be represented," he added.

The BOG represents Eastern, Northwestern Illinois University, Western Illinois University, Chicago State University and Governors State University.

The BOG's responsibilities include recommending tuition, fee and housing pricetags, recommending university funding levels, approving university purchases and approving union contracts for university employees.

Weaver said the bill, authored by Illinois State Sen. Patrick Welch, D-Peru, has not been called to a vote in the Senate Higher Education Committee. Weaver could not speculate on how soon it would be voted on.

"It (the BOR bill) is going through the process. The process does tend to slow things down, but that's the way it's designed—to give due hearing to every bill," Weaver said.

Before it reaches the House, he said, the bill must at least be posted for hearing, heard in testimony, passed by the committee and then passed on the senate floor.

Jewel will overcome—analysts

CHICAGO—A grocery chain barraged by negative publicity after the nation's second-largest salmonella outbreak may encounter a modest income loss, but any financial setback should be only temporary, two analysts said Monday.

"Over time, I think the memory of the thing will fade," said George Lynch, vice president of Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith Inc. in New York. "I think whatever the business impact is, it will be temporary because it could have happened to anyone."

While Jewel Companies Inc., which has 217 stores in four Midwestern states, may face some first-quarter earnings losses and unexpected costs, Lynch said the company is "a tradition in Chicago. I just can't believe this will damage them irreparably."

Jewel "is the major powerhouse in the Chicago region in general supermarkets," added retail analysts John Landschultz of Mesirow & Co. in Chicago. "They have had an impeccable record over the years, and this is just one of those embarrassments."

Care ordered for 'Baby Does'

WASHINGTON—The Reagan administration ordered doctors and hospitals on Monday to provide medically necessary treatment for severely handicapped "Baby Doe" infants except in cases where death appears inevitable.

The Department of Health and Human Services released a final regulation covering the so-called "Baby Doe" cases, in which infants with severe or multiple handicaps might be denied necessary medical treatments and allowed to die.

The regulations, which drew more than 116,000 comments from the public and special interest groups, specify only three cases in which doctors are justified in withholding medical treatment:

- When the infant is chronically and irreversibly comatose.
- When treatment merely prolongs inevitable death.
- When treatment is so extreme and is so likely to be futile that it becomes inhumane to administer it.

Fired transsexual loses in court

CHICAGO—A transsexual who was a Vietnam combat pilot before her sex change operation lost an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court on Monday, but her attorneys vow to continue the fight to overturn her firing by Eastern Air Lines.

The court, without comment, let stand a ruling that Karen Ulane's firing in 1980 did not represent illegal on-the-job bias.

At issue was whether a federal law barring sex discrimination in employment protects transsexuals. A federal appeals court had ruled that it does not.

Ms. Ulane, now in her 40s and a florist in the Chicago area, was fired as an Eastern pilot "for no reason other than the fact that she ceased being a male and became a female," her attorneys contend.

Bans against interracial marriage, sex in South Africa to be repealed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The government said Monday it will repeal laws prohibiting sex and marriage between whites and people of other races—two pillars of the apartheid system aimed at preserving white racial purity.

Anti-apartheid forces quickly called the announcement "window dressing" and declared the laws unimportant compared with the primary goal of winning the right to vote for South Africa's black majority—22 million people.

Whites on both sides took the move seriously. The Conservative Party said the repeal would endanger "our national identity," and Louis Stofberg, spokesman for the far-right Herstigte Nasionale Party said, "The government has let loose a tiger that it won't be able to control."

The announcement, by Home Affairs Minister F.W. de Klerk to Parliament, was the most dramatic of a series of moves by white-minority government in recent months toward social change and easing of apartheid, the official policy of racial segregation.

Repeal of the sex and marriage laws strikes at the foundations of apartheid, which guarantees such white privileges as separate residential neighborhoods, schools and hospitals.

De Klerk told Parliament the government believes legalization of sex across the color line will create social problems, but feels it is time to remove the issue "from the political arena."

Repeal of the 36-year-old Prohibition of Mixed Marriages Act and the 28-year-old Section 16 of the Immorality Act, expected this year, will allow whites legally to have sexual relations with blacks, Asians and people of mixed race—called coloreds in South Africa. There has been no prohibition on relations among non-white groups.

The laws were strictly enforced in most parts of the country, but have been increasingly ignored in the large cities—Johannesburg, Durban and Cape Town—where hundreds of whites and non-whites lived together with the sufferance of authorities. About 200 people have been prosecuted under the laws each year.

Crew gets OK for satellite rescue

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Discovery's crew got the go-ahead Monday for an attempt to restore power to a crippled $80 million satellite with a homemade "fly swatter" made from a window shade, a vacuum hose and a piece of plastic.

Astronauts Jeffrey Hoffman and David Griggs put on space helmets for an hour to breathe pure oxygen, beginning the process of purging nitrogen from their systems for a space walk Tuesday during which they will clamp the device onto the shuttle arm.

Rescue day is Wednesday when Discovery will close the 40-mile distance with the satellite and extend its arm-flyswatter combination to try to snag a four-inch lever on the side of the huge revolving satellite.

The lever is an on-off switch for electrical power to the satellite that was supposed to flip outward automatically when the astronauts deployed the satellite Saturday. By pulling it, engineers hope to begin the electrical sequence to restore the satellite to its proper working condition.

"You're go for EVA (extra-vehicular activity) tomorrow and a rendezvous the day after tomorrow," shuttle commander Karol Bobko was told.

"Oh, boy, we'll look forward to it," he said.

New treatment for diabetes found

BOSTON (AP)—By squirting less than a tablespoon of cells into the body, doctors hope they can at last achieve one of medicine's most important and elusive goals: a way to prevent the devastating side effects of diabetes.

Experimental versions of these mini-transplants are already being performed in at least two medical centers, and other physicians across the country hope to try them soon.

The idea is to replace the insulin-making cells in the pancreas that fail when people have severe diabetes. If the procedure works as well as doctors hope, this tissue, called islet cells, will produce insulin naturally inside the body. And it will provide the ideal, minute-by-minute control of blood sugar that is impossible with insulin injections.

The technique works well in animals with the disease. But more refinements and experimentation will be necessary before it can be used widely in people.

Just how long that work will take is still uncertain. However, some of the doctors involved in the research said they are optimistic that they can solve the difficulties and obtain, at last, a means to prevent the blindness and other consequences of diabetes.

Reagan seeks contra aid; opens open lobbying blitz

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan, launching the second major legislative campaign of his new term, appealed Monday for $14 million for guerrillas battling Nicaragua's leftist government, calling the money "so little, yet such an important symbol of resolve."

Reagan met with Costa Rica's president and members of Washington's conservative foreign policy establishment, and also issued a statement from the Oval Office.

On Capitol Hill, opponents of Reagan's aid plan opened their own lobbying blitz. And the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy began running newspaper, television and radio ads denouncing alleged victims of rebel brutality.

At a news conference, one widow, Mary Bolt, described how her husband, who owned a coffee farm in Nicaragua, was beaten to death and his crops destroyed by guerrillas.

Weeping, she said, "He was simply a free producer who trusted that the revolution was not going to take away his farm."

Rep. Peter Kostmayer, D-Pa., an opponent of Reagan's proposal, predicted Reagan's lobbying campaign would fail in the Democrat-controlled House. "It would be the first step toward wider U.S. involvement," he said, and would give the administration a blank check to wage an-ended war in Central America.

But the president pointed to his April 4 proposal for a cease-fire and church-mediated negotiations between Nicaragua's Sandinista government and U.S.-backed rebels, coupled with a renewed appeal for covert aid to the guerrillas. He said he was "asking Congress to give this peace initiative and democracy a chance."

Reagan said the money he seeks is just a "small amount, $14 million for the more than 15,000 Nicaraguans who are struggling for democracy."

"It is so little, yet such an important symbol of our resolve, a signal to all of Central America and, yes, to those everywhere in the world who depend on us," he said in a statement.

The president was flanked by James R. Schlesinger, defense secretary in the Ford administration; Zbigniew Brzezinski, national security adviser in the Carter White House; Jeane J. Kirkpatrick, who served four years as Reagan's ambassador to the United Nations; and Vice President George Bush.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in Thursday's Daily Eastern News that Colleen E. Murphy is Pemberton Hall's judicial board representative.

Murphy does not serve in that position, but she is a member of the university judicial board.

It was also incorrectly reported that Steve Hogan is vice president of the Residence Hall Association. Hogan is president of Illinois Residence Hall Association.

The News regrets the errors.

Eastern waits for new tuition policy

by Julie Cambria Brechbill

Depending on the outcome of a two-year experiment at Western Illinois University which will allow students from some Missouri and Iowa counties to pay in-state tuition, Eastern may eventually implement a similar policy.

Eastern President Stanley Rives said at last week's Board of Governors meeting that Indiana State University's policy, which allows students from Clark, Edgar and Crawford counties in Illinois to pay in-state tuition, is a concern to Eastern.

Rives said it does not cause problems in enrollment for Eastern now, but "with the decline of high school graduates it may present a problem in the future."

Rives added that he thought Eastern should have some type of reciprocal policy.

Ron Koger, director of admissions at Indiana State, said the university averages 90 students from Illinois every year through its policy.

"The policy gives us more students," he said. "But, we lose a lot of income by waiving the out-of-state tuition."

However, Koger added that he thinks Indiana State's policy is going to come under some changes soon to reduce the number of students eligible.

"We may put a limit to the number of students," he said. "Or we may make the requirements more stringent."

Roy Twilly, dean of admissions at Western Illinois, said he thinks the experimental policy, which will go into effect in fall 1985, will not have a significant impact on Western's enrollment but will benefit the university.

"We're expecting 40 to 50 students," he said. "It will add to enrollment without increasing Western's operating costs. It is in the best interest of Western."

Twilly said under the experimental policy, students from five Iowa and three Missouri counties will be permitted an in-state rate reduction of two-thirds.

Western will monitor the policy and submit a report to the BOG when the two-year experimental period is over.

Campus Security

One of my opponents is promoting a security plan which would cost YOU over $30,000. I believe that security is a university responsibility and should adequately provide for our safety.

Dismissal Review Board

Students who are dismissed from the university currently receive a letter from a computer telling them to take some time off. I will create a dismissal review board to allow students to explain their reasoning BEFORE they leave the university.

Experienced Leadership

None of my opponents have any student government experience. Look at everything we have lost the past year due to inexperienced leadership: 1) Fall Break 2) Kegs at tailgaters and much much more. We need leadership that has access to the administration before we lose even more of the things we now ENJOY and NEED.

Recanted rape could damage victims' chance

A few weeks ago, Cathleen Crowell Webb spoke out in what might be viewed as a self-sacrificing effort to correct a previous wrong.

Webb recanted her testimony from six years ago when she accused Gary Dotson of rape. Her 'believable' testimony and a unanimous guilty verdict from the jury sent Dotson to prison.

Webb now says the story she originally presented to police and the court was entirely fictionalized.

Sure was nice of her to confess. At least her conscious is clear, and a man who might be innocent could be relieved from having to pay a debt he never owed to society.

But now there are questions as to whether Webb is now telling the truth. A lot of evidence still points to Dotson as the rapist. So, now Webb must take lie detector tests, and Dotson must take tests to further prove his possible innocence.

It's understandable. If she says she lied in the beginning, what's to prevent her from lying now?

But what kind of effects will this case bear on other rape cases? Will Webb and her imagination fade into obscurity as quickly as the case becomes more than just a routine rape trial? Or, will the memories of her lies cause juries and judges to question the credibility of rape victims?

Apparently the latter will be true. Already a defense attorney has cited the Dotson case to help prove his client's innocence. And the case isn't even over yet.

It's easy to see why a lawyer would jump to use the verdict as a defense. Many young women may feel they committed a wrong and try to blame it on someone else.

It's just as easy to conceive of a lawyer using this case when someone actually did commit a rape, and being freed unjustly while the rape victim fails to find justice.

What Webb did is done. And in her mind, it should be over with. Unfortunately, the judicial system may not be so quick to forget.

We can only hope that this case will not interfere with justice, and that people will still find credibility in actual rape victims.

Supports 'Quality'

Editor:

Due to the fact that students do have a say in the upcoming April 17 election, I feel that it is important that students choose the best candidates for each position. This is why I feel the "Quality" party is the most qualified and only real option.

We need experienced leaders to represent us. Vote Quality—Wednesday.

Charlie A. Suessen

Quality echoes view

Editor:

As a student here at Eastern I feel that I should have the opportunity to be heard through my student senators. And I feel that by voting QUALITY my opinion will be heard.

It is for this reason that I support Quality.

Suzanne M. Rodgers

Akins 'best' choice

Editor:

Floyd Akins is the best possible choice for Student Body President. He has received the endorsement of the Eastern News and the Residence Hall Association.

As University Board Chairman Floyd Akins has done an outstanding job of bringing good entertainment to the students. Because of his involvement with the UB Floyd has gained the leadership skills and organizational abilities to be an effective student body president. Akins has shown a sincere concern for the students and deserves your support.

It's TIME to make Floyd Akins your student body president.

Kenneth Sjorslev

The real question

Editor:

Just recently, I heard students speaking of the TIME's flyers. These students were basing their votes on the flyers because they flaunt the final exam schedule. Is the question at issue the "final" schedule or the "future" of the students?

QUALITY is a group of students who want to represent us, the student body, in the best way possible. They have many "new" ideas, and they care about the future of our school.

I feel the members of the QUALITY party are definitely "qualified" for their hopeful positions. I only hope the rest of the student body will open their minds to what QUALITY has to offer. I encourage students to stop the candidates and ask them their ideas, listen to them, and take those ideas to the polls.

It might be time for a change, but that change is QUALITY.

Amy Anderson

Shawgo concerned

Editor:

I would like to take this time to encourage all students who care about what happens at the university to vote for Barry Shawgo for Board of Governor's Representative.

Shawgo has proven through his past accomplishments that he truly does care about the students of Eastern and will work to get the best for the students in the future.

Shawgo is without a doubt the most qualified and knowledgeable candidate for Board of Governor's Representative. Please, get out and help yourself on Wednesday by voting for Shawgo.

Patrick Phalen

'League' qualities

Editor:

My name is Doug Anderson. You probably have never heard of me. But so what. I am running for senator at large. But so what. There's nothing I could do for you anyway, right?

You know what? I need an endorsement, you know, from a qualified source. So this buddy of mine from the league, you know—the Justice League, flipped me a tarot card, and it said I have practical knowledge, strength and enterprise. So I guess I'll ride on that and on being on a ticket with madmen like the Buczkowski brothers who have intensity, courage, strength, ambition, will power, compassion and integrity.

So we might win, we might not. And I might not even wake up with a hangover on Thursday.

Doug Anderson

Endorses senator

Editor:

I would like to endorse Colleen E. Murphy, who is running for residence hall senator with the QUALITY party. I feel that she is the most qualified person to represent the students and get the job done.

Colleen has lived in the residence halls for two years and has actively participated in hall government. I also feel that she has the student's interests in mind and will work hard to insure that these interests are met. This is why I am endorsing Colleen Murphy, a QUALITY candidate, for residence hall senator, and I feel that other students should join me.

Brenda Brinkley

Wesel 'experienced'

Editor:

As election time approaches once again, I feel that I must endorse someone I feel is extremely qualified for the office of president—that person is Ron Wesel.

Wesel is quite experienced in student government. It would seem that with his past position as student senate speaker he would have gained insight to the system and would be able to assume the position of president without the difficulty of an inexperienced person.

After reading the profiles of the other candidates, I find that their ideas lack specificity, originality and purpose. I feel that the person who is best qualified for the job should have the best ideas and Ron Wesel meets this criteria.

Finally, I feel Ron Wesel and the Quality party can make a difference. These candidates have been assets to student government in the past and will continue to be in the future.

Sharon A. Dorf

QUALITY for improvements

Editor:
As a concerned student, I would like to take this opportunity to endorse the QUALITY party in the student government elections.

I feel that this slate is the most concerned about the students' welfare. They will do their best to keep fees down and to improve the quality of life for the students here at Eastern. That's why QUALITY is getting my support, and I can't think of a better reason than this for them to get your support. Vote QUALITY.

Steve Ascolani

Wesel respects quality

Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to write a letter in support of Ron Wesel for the office of student body president.

Wesel has proven he is a very dedicated and responsible student in his office of speaker of the senate over the past two years. Furthermore, he has gained respect with Eastern's administrators, which is a vital quality for the office of student body president. This respect and dedication has proven to me that he is the best candidate for this position.

Without hesitation, I fully support Wesel and his team for this important office. I encourage all students to vote on Wednesday for a leader who respects the quality of Eastern.

Financial Vice President

Time for 'QUALITY' change

Editor:
We are resident assistants who are very much involved in hall government. We are both juniors and have seen student government at its best and worst. Since the introduction of the Quality party, we are confident student government will be on the rise.

With people such as Suzanne Murrie, John Carmon and Marcia Behm we feel confident we will be represented to the highest degree and with the best care.

We sincerely endorse the Quality party on Wednesday. We feel it's time for a change, but a quality change.

Joe Calhoun
Matt Glenn

Quality gets 'QUALITY' attention

Editor:
What is student government? It is the eyes and ears of the students, and with this in mind, I want to endorse the party that has their ears open and their eyes on the lookout for the students. Do yourself a favor Wednesday and vote for QUALITY.

Bill Hall

Not 'time' for a change

Editor:
I'm writing in support of Ron Wesel and the Quality party. I've known and worked with Ron on many levels in the past year. His dedication to his work and personal integrity as an individual have shown through constantly. But, just as important are his qualifications. He has already established a working relationship with the administration through his position as speaker. One individual said, "Faculty big-whigs shake him and call him by his first name all the time." Ron's ideas are idealistic and feasible. Where other candidates seem not to have goals, accept anything better. This is not good enough! We can't wait for a semester for an inexperienced president to adjust to the system.

In order for the organization to start running smoothly and effectively we must provide continuity within the organization. Such as, potential presidents serving as a senator, then a committee chairman, then say, speaker of the senate and then seek the presidency. Ironically, Ron has the Quality ticket has many outstanding individuals with outstanding ideas.

I encourage everyone to vote and to vote smart. Remember what happened a year ago?

Finally, it's not time for change, it's time for experienced, qualified individuals to get the job done the way it's supposed to be done.

Voices for Kupsche, TIME

Editor:

Gigi Kupsche, a junior, is well qualified for the position of executive vice president. She has served on two senate committees in the past year, is presently a senator, and best of all, is NOT a member of 'Club Senate.'

Kupsche and the other qualified people on the TIME ticket, are people who will represent the students' interest, not their own.

Let your voice be heard! It's TIME for a change in student government. It's the students who vote for the candidates, so do your part by voting for Kupsche for executive vice president.

QUALITY is 'best' qualified

This is a letter of endorsement for what I feel is the most qualified party. The party is the QUALITY party, of course. They are the best representatives for the campus. They have the best alternatives. So vote for the best—vote QUALITY.

Doug Bowling

Voices should be heard in votes

Editor:

It seems as though another election is upon us. The student government elections are Wednesday, and I hope you will vote in the election.

For three years on this campus, I have said the only way the student's voices are to be heard is to get out and vote. This includes student government as well as local, state and national elections.

In the upcoming student government election, there are two candidates running for Student Senate whom I hope you will support. These two candidates are Suzanne Murrie and Gary Gleespen. I know both of these candidates personally, and I have lived next to Gleespen for two years.

I know both will offer fresh new ideas to student government and will be true representatives of the students. I hope you will support these two candidates and if not, I hope you will at least vote in this important election.

This letter is to announce my endorsement for student government elections. I would like to endorse the most qualified, experienced and innovative party. What party is that you might ask? It's QUALITY.

Letters submitted without a name (or with a pseudonym) or without a telephone number or other means of verifying authorships will not be published.

Authorship of letters will be verified by telephone or by means otherwise specified by the author prior to publication.

Editor's note: The regular feature column, "What's the point?" by Diane Schneidman has been postponed until Wednesday in an effort to publish all letters to the editor concerning the student government election. No endorsement letters will be published Wednesday.

Rives, senate hashing out dean evaluation process

by Jean Wright

Faculty Senate Chairman Ken Sutton will meet Tuesday with Eastern President Stanley Rives and Edgar Schick, vice president for academic affairs, to discuss whether deans should be evaluated by the faculty.

Currently, Schick evaluates deans.

Sutton said he is in favor of faculty evaluation of deans and hopes they can "come to an agreement without anyone losing face."

However, Schick said he is opposed to the proposal and believes deans should be evaluated only by the person they report to.

Rives declined to comment on whether he is in favor of the faculty evaluations of deans.

"I want to speak with both of them," Rives said. "Hopefully we can reach an agreement."

Jon Laible, dean of arts and sciences, said he believes faculty evaluations would be beneficial.

"All of the input we can get is valuable," Laible said. "(The faculty's) advice would be very useful to me."

Laible added that he understands why there is opposition to the Faculty Senate's proposal.

"Most faculty members don't have direct input with the deans," he said. "Thus, they don't know enough about what the deans do to fill out a questionnaire."

However, Shirley Moore, dean of academic development, is opposed to faculty having input on the evaluations.

"I'm certainly in favor of evaluation of deans," she said. "But only by those who they report to."

The senate will also discuss reorganization of committees. Sutton expressed concern that the faculty was under-represented on the Council on University Planning and Budget.

The senate, which will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Martinsville room, will also hear a report from the student-faculty relations committee and discuss proposed dates and topics for a meeting between the student and faculty senates this semester.

In other business, the senate will discuss feedback received from the proposed 1986-87 academic calendar.

The social committee will give a report regarding the upcoming retiree tea.

VP Williams' son dies of cancer

The son of Eastern's vice president for student affairs was buried Monday at Mound Cemetery following his death from cancer last week.

David K. Williams, 35, son of Eastern administrator Glenn Williams, died at 6:05 a.m. Friday at Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center.

University Relations Director Daniel Thornburgh said Monday that Williams had been suffering from terminal cancer for about four years.

Williams was born July 14, 1949, in Delaware, Ohio, to Dr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Williams. He was married to Kilchin Yuk in December 1971.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Glenn; his parents; a sister, Beta Dennis of Denver, Colo.; and his paternal and maternal grandmothers, both of Mid Florida Lake, Fla.

Williams was a manager of an Alaskan-based oil drilling firm. He was also a member of Wesley United Methodist Church.

power.

"The proposal would just gut the senate," he said.

Elder had said previously that implementation of an academic senate might help to eliminate questions of whether an issue falls under the jurisdiction of the union or the senate.

When the senate last year suggested equity pay increases for Eastern instructors be investigated, the union cautioned the senate against becoming in collective bargaining matters.

Ronald Wohlstein, Council on Academic Affairs chairman, called the removal of the article on the academic senate proposal "wonderful."

The faculty already has adequate decision-making power with respect to academic decision-making, he said.

Elder said all other articles to the contract proposal draft were approved, while "wording changes" and/or expansions were made to other articles.

The fringe benefit package was expanded to include more forms of insurance.

One such example was that a proposal on daycare facilities was expanded to include non-medical care facilities for seniors, such as the dependent parent of a union member.

Contract negotiations will begin April 24 at Governors State University where the UPI negotiating team will present its proposal to the BOG negotiating team.

Elder is the UPI/BOG chief negotiating member. Eastern's chapter representatives are Don Dolton and Susan Morris. Morris will serve as the representative for the 52 Eastern employees who recently became eligible for UPI representation.

Those employees include: full-time temporary faculty who are in their second or subsequent year of employment; part-time faculty who have appointments of 50 percent or more in their third or subsequent year of employment; and academic support staff such as academic advisers, counselors and academic professionals in non-traditional programs and continuing education.

Assistant director leaves

New job draws Eastern official

Jill Zimmerman, assistant director of student activities, is leaving Eastern after two years to accept a new position at the University of New Orleans.

Zimmerman has been offered the position of assistant dean of students at the University of New Orleans, she said.

Reflecting on her two years in Charleston, Zimmerman said Eastern has a lot to offer its students.

"The students have played an important part in my life and I hope that I have done the same for them," she said.

Zimmerman added that she believes the time has come for her to grow professionally, and said the new position gives her the opportunity.

"The University of New Orleans has 16,000 students and a lot more opportunity," she said.

Three finalists selected for marching band post

by Pamela Lill

The search for a new marching band director has been narrowed to three candidates, Peter Hesterman, chairman of the search committee, said.

Current Marching Band Director Greg Clemons has withdrawn from the race. Clemons declined to comment on his decision Monday.

The three candidates currently in the race are William Doyle, University of Rhode Island; Thomas Brawner, high school band director from Frankfurt, Kentucky; and Dennis Hopkin, University of Wyoming.

The committee is looking for somebody who is "active as a performer," as well as being "innovative and a good leader," Hesterman said.

He added that the director should also be a "musician of high expectations."

Responsibilities of the new director would also include acting as a trumpet teacher and conductor of the wind ensemble or concert band.

Members of the search committee include Joseph Martin, Richard Barta, Alan Horney and Robert E. Schnyder.

Interviews of the candidates will end next week, at which time the committee will present its recommendation, Hesterman said.

Final approval for the post will be made by Eastern President Stanley Rives.

Sing begins Greek Week

by Pamela Lill

Delta Zeta sorority and Sigma Pi fraternity were winners Sunday of Greek Sing, Greek Week's first activity.

Delta Zeta sorority sang a Manhattan Transfer Medley, and Sigma Pi fraternity sang a "Fame" medley.

Second place awards were given to Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, which sang a medley from "Victor/Victoria," and Sigma Chi fraternity, which performed a "West Side Story" medley.

Greek Sing co-chair Ken Schroeder said, "I think it (the Sing) went really well."

The heat is on Classroom climate sticky

by Amy Zurawski

Several Eastern buildings are getting warmer because of spring's arrival and the heating system.

Claudia Gross, an accounting and finance instructor, said the Blair Hall room she teaches in is always "very warm" so she is forced to open the windows in an attempt to create an environment suitable for learning.

"It is very hard to teach and learn in a hot classroom," she added. "The heat is very disruptive."

However, Physical Plant Engineer Marty Ignazito said what feels like excessive heat in several campus buildings is not always caused by the heating systems.

"Internal temperature gains from machinery, lights and people sometimes cause buildings to feel warmer than necessary during the mild seasons," he said.

However, Ignazito said several perimeter heating systems, installed under large sections of windows in some buildings, may still be operating and causing rooms to be hot.

He added that if anyone knows of a building in which warm air is coming from the heat ducts, they should contact the Physical Plant so the problem can be alleviated.

In addition, a Booth Library spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said, several areas in the library have been "warmer than usual", but added that she has not received any complaints from patrons.

She added the problem is usually alleviated by opening windows near the area.

Thomas Hall counselor Tom Condit said although he has received no complaints from residents about the room temperatures, the lobby and desk areas "have been very warm lately."

Heat is coming in from the ducts, Condit said, adding "the thermostat reads about 85 degrees, but I don't know how accurate it is."

Pemberton Hall counselor Patty Krantz also said heat was coming from the ducts Monday, and she called the Physical Plant to shut it off.

She said the heat was making the building warm, but added that she had not received any complaints from residents.

Chemistry instructor Giles Henderson said there have been no heat problems in the Science building classrooms.

Univeristy employees in the Student Services building and Coleman Hall both said no heating problems have been encountered in those buildings.

Triad counselor Beth Tankersley, Lawson Hall counselor Nancy Pengile and Stevenson Hall counselor Kevin Cannon all said the heating systems were functioning normally and they had not received any complaints from the residents about the buildings' temperatures.

Because it takes several days to turn on the campus buildings' cooling systems and get them to full operating capacity, Ignazito said the cooling systems would not begin operation until about the second week of May.

"We (Eastern) do not have a cooling system that allows us to make rapid changes with the weather," he said. "To alleviate the problem, intelligent window opening should be done. If it is cooler outside, open the windows; if not, don't."

Eastern graduate manages new rent-a-car business

by Jim Allen

Business is "better than expected" at the new Charleston American International Rent-a-car, manager Kent Brooks said Monday.

AI Rent-a-car, which has a network of 1,300 offices nationwide, opened its Charleston franchise last week across from the "Wendy's" at 301B W. Lincoln.

Brooks, a 1983 Eastern business education graduate, said, "Really, we're a community- and student-oriented business. Surely the (Eastern) students will make up a good portion of the customers."

AI will feature a line of 1984 and 1985 models ranging from subcompact to luxury cars on up to cargo vans.

Brooks said he has had calls from students interested in renting cargo vans to move home for summer break, adding, "I would suggest that people call on about renting the vans."

Brooks noted the Charleston office is affiliated with the Champaign branch and that University of Illinois students will cause the demand for the vans to be tight after finals week.

One advantage offered to students, Brooks said, will be the ability to make "cash" rentals. While identification is necessary for the deposit, he said having a credit card will not be a prerequisite for renting a car.

Also, the firm is offering free transportation from homes within Charleston-Mattoon city limits to their office before renting and a ride home after returning the vehicle.

Brooks said there will be a demand for the rental cars with college students as they can use them for weekend trips home, van trips to night baseball games in St. Louis and Chicago and temporary insurance replacements for cars damaged in accidents.

"An example is a guy who had to go to a formal at Southern last week," he said.

"Business has been better than I expected," Brooks said of the fledgling franchise. "If there hadn't been a man from (Springfield's IA) office, I wouldn't have been able to handle it last Thursday."

AI is the sixth largest rent-a-car firm in the U.S. and its Charleston office will be competing with National Rent-a-car out of Coles County Airport.

Telefund a success

Over $26,000 netted in fundraiser

by Amy Zurawski

More than $26,000 was pledged during a telefund conducted by Eastern's College of Business and the EIU Foundation, a fundraising organization.

Telefund Coordinator Terry Maris, also assistant dean of the College of Business, said about 200 student and faculty volunteers contacted more than 1,000 College of Business alumni to obtain pledges.

The funds collected from the telefund, which was conducted from Feb. 18-March 14, will be used for scholarships, faculty development and research, he said.

Maris said the amount of money raised this year exceeded the goal by $4,000 and last year's total by 49 percent.

"The success of the telefund can be attributed to better organization this year," he said. "This year we had a video tape to show to all the volunteers before they started calling."

He added that the level of excitement and energy of the volunteers was "very good this year and definitely helped in the telefund's success. It was a good experience for everyone."

In addition, Maris said the telefund had a sponsor for the first time. LaGondola, 667 Lincoln, provided free spaghetti dinners to the team which received the largest pledge amount.

The winning team was the American Marketing Association, which received $3,895 in pledges during the telefund.

Lady cagers add two more recruits to roster

by Tim Lee

Eastern's women's basketball team signed two more recruits Monday to national letters of intent for 1985.

Aurora, Ind., native Lisa Tyler and Brenda Webb from Antioch have joined Ann Pluhm and Liz Cavanaugh as high school seniors to make a written commitment to play for coach Barbara Hilke and the Panthers.

Tyler, a 6-0 forward, played for South Dearborn High School and led the team to a 17-6 record and the Regional Championship game as a senior. She averaged 18.8 points and 14.7 rebounds and 4.2 assists per game this season. She is a three-time All-Eastern Indiana Athletic Conference selection, a three-time all-sectional pick in the state tournament, 1985 Sectional Most Valuable Player, 1984 Regional Most Valuable Player, two-time Most Valuable Player of the Ripley County Tournament, two-time all-regional pick and pre-season first-team all-state selection by Hoosier Basketball Magazine.

"Lisa comes to us as a player who could help us fill a void on the boards next season," Hilke said. "She is a tremendous rebounder and is extremely coachable. Lisa wants to work hard to succeed and I like that."

"I saw her hit a 30-footer to win a game in the state tournament," Hilke said. "She is a winner with a lot of strong fundamental skills. I'm thrilled having her as part of the Eastern Illinois team."

She also holds numerous school records in both the scoring and rebounding categories, including the all-time leader in both.

"I feel Lisa will be an asset to Eastern's program," said South Dearborn coach Bill Snyder. "She is a heady player who with a little work on the weights next year could be awesome. Lisa is the type of player that will dive for the ball and scrap for it on the court."

Lisa Tyler

Webb, a 6-2 forward, led the Antioch Sequoits to a 22-4 record in her senior season and averaged 14.9 points and 15 rebounds per game.

"She could have scored 40 points a game if we would have got the ball into her more often last season," said Antioch High School coach Harold Abramson. "She often got 10 points a game off offensive rebounds and six to eight points in our offense. Brenda was such a physically-superior player over her peers that she often got cheap fouls called on her because she was much more aggressive than everybody else."

Webb was named to the Waukegan News-Sun All-County team and the All-North Suburban Conference team after her senior year.

"Brenda is a very aggressive player," Hilke said. "She is an exceptional athlete that should help us next year. When she learns how to box out effectively, Brenda will be a dynamo."

"She has a tremendous desire to be a complete basketball player," Hilke said. "I can't wait to get her on a weight program so she can get stronger. The strange thing is she's only 17-years-old. I think she will be an exciting addition to our squad next season."

The two are the first forwards that have been signed by the Panthers for next season. Pluhm was a center and Cavanaugh a guard.

Men netters ready to cruise past IUPUI in road match

by Frank Polich

One of the oldest unwritten rules in all of sports is that a team should worry about its next opponent, not look ahead—no matter how weak the team is.

When Eastern's men's tennis team travels to Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis Tuesday, they'll really be thinking about the upcoming Evansville match on Wednesday.

"We beat IUPUI 9-0 on our courts last time. However, we won't have too much trouble beating them again on their courts," coach John Bennett said.

It's natural for players to look forward to playing on their home court.

"Since we haven't had too many home matches, we're looking past IUPUI—I especially since they're a weak club," Bennett said.

The netters lineup will remain the way it has throughout the season, because Bennett feels that it is the best possible.

In singles, Scott Fjelstad will play No. 1; John Suter, No. 2; Eric Laffey, No. 3; Bob Kirkwood, No. 4; Don Carstens, No. 5 and Mark Matijasevich, No. 6.

Doubles will also remain the same with Fjelstad and Suter at No. 1, Laffey and Kirkwood at No. 2 and Carstens and Matijasevich playing No. 3.

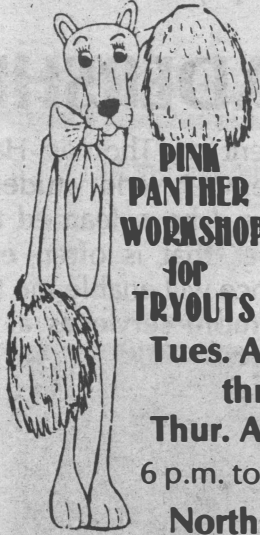

Even though the netters' are looking past IUPUI, Bennett said he'll remind them to concentrate on the match at hand.

"We have to watch our conduct closely," Bennett said. "We can't have any racket throwing or yelling because in conference play, any contestant would be disqualified."

The Panthers return home Wednesday to host the Purple Aces of Evansville University at Triad Courts.

Following a road match against Indiana State, the netters return home to host St. Francis, St. Ambrose, Principia and Augustana Colleges in a Friday and Saturday tournament.

BECOME A 4-LETTER MAN.

Why are a lot of college men and women becoming buddies in Army ROTC? Probably because Army ROTC is full of the kind of people other people go out of their way to meet.

ROTC students tend to be high achievers who are interested in more than their studies. They're popular students with a serious side, but who like to have a good time, too.

PRE-REGISTER ROTC!

In other words, when people join Army ROTC they often meet people a lot like themselves.

Lady Panthers looking to rebound at Indiana

Eastern catcher Tangi Waldrop lines a single during an April 2 double-header sweep against Miami (Ohio) at Lantz Field. Eastern is currently 13-9 overall and 2-6 in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference. Waldrop and her Panther teammates travel to Indiana University for a non-conference twin bill against the Hoosiers. (News photo by Brian Ormiston)

Sluggers to face Illinois State and Bradley in back-to-back twinbills

by Jeff Long

The old intangible of home field advantage will take on increased importance for Eastern's baseball team this week—but the Panthers won't have that edge until Saturday.

Eastern will play back-to-back doubleheaders on the road this week against Bradley on Tuesday and Illinois State on Wednesday before returning home to host Western Illinois Saturday and Sunday.

The Panthers, 18-9-1, have not found the road to be an ideal setting for them this season. Six of the Panthers' nine losses have come at opposing fields, where they post a mediocre 5-6 record.

In contrast, they have gone 8-2 at Monier Field this season and 5-1-1 at neutral sights.

But Eastern coach Tom McDevitt is not a strong believer of the home field advantage. To the eighth-year coach, the game's outcome is determined by the personnel on the field and not the location of the field.

"You still have to play the ballgame between the lines and bases, no matter where it's played," McDevitt said.

Bradley posts an identical 8-2 home-field record this season. The Braves, 21-11 overall, appear to be a spitting image of Eastern.

Both teams enter Tuesday's contest with impressive offensive figures. Like Eastern, the Braves have hit above the .300 mark all season and currently boast a .313 team average. Eastern, which has hit above .300 the past four years, enters with a .312 average.

Centerfielder Monty Aldrich has been the anchor to the Panthers' arsenal throughout the season. The senior leads Eastern in average (.410), runs (27), hits (34), doubles (5), triples (2) and walks (29).

In all, seven of Eastern's starters are hitting better than .300. They will be going against an inexperienced Bradley mound staff that is predominantly freshmen.

The Braves, with a 4.58 team ERA, are coming off a rough weekend against Creighton, in which they lost three of four. Sunday, the Braves lost a pair of nailbiters to Creighton 3-2 and 2-1.

Eastern split a pair of weekend games with Southern Illinois-Edwardsville but looked sharp on the mound. The Panthers gave up just 10 hits in the two games and yielded no walks.

However, they will have their work cut out for them at Bradley. Six Braves are hitting over .300, led by second baseman Scott Melvin, who boasts a .450 average with 31 RBI's.

Righthander Brian Corn will pitch Tuesday's first game while righty Mike Steinkamp is slated to throw the nightcap.

Corn, 3-2, holds the second lowest ERA on the Panther staff with 2.54. The freshman leads Eastern pitchers with 31 strikeouts in 28½ innings pitched.

Steinkamp will be making his sixth start. The junior has displayed good control this season, yielding only seven walks in 26½ innings pitched.

by Dan Verdun

When Eastern's softball team travels to Indiana University Tuesday, the Panthers hope to give the Hoosiers more to worry about than Bobby Knight.

The double-header will mark a non-conference break for the Panthers, 13-9 overall and 2-6 in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Eastern is coming off a disappointing road trip that saw the Panthers drop three of four games to GCAC opponents Southwest Missouri and Wichita State.

"I think we ran into problems because we came in to the season with so much enthusiasm because we had so much talent and we got down a little after losing a couple of games," freshman Angel Lendvay said.

"It's been a little tough to regain our enthusiasm," Lendvay added.

Lendvay spearheads Eastern's offensive attack. The Mundelein product is currently hitting at a sizzling .422 clip with one home run and 11 RBI.

Lendvay attributes her success to long hours of work on hitting in Lantz Fieldhouse over the winter.

"We worked a lot of hours hitting live pitching all winter," Lendvay said. "I was primarily recruited here because of my hitting. I just try and do my best."

Senior Shelly Eddington supplies more of the Panthers' punch with a .415 batting average, two home runs and 10 RBI.

Freshman shortstop Sara Karcher adds a .299 average to the Eastern attack.

The Panthers will most likely use Eddington and freshman Zam Mogill as their starting pitchers against the Hoosiers.

Mogill leads Eastern in victories with seven and has earned run average at 0.48, while striking out 53 batters in over 72 innings pitched.

Eddington is 6-6 with a 1.14 ERA. The Brighton product has struck 25 batters this season.

Indiana boasts an impressive 28-12-1 record. The Hoosier offense is paced by Karleen Moore who leads the team in hitting at .388 with 16 RBI.

Pam Lee chips in a .377 average with five doubles, eight triples and 20 RBI.

Last season, Eastern split its double-header with Indiana. The Hoosiers took game one, 1-0, before the Panthers rolled to a 7-3 victory in the nightcap.

'Marvelous' wins savage title bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Marvelous Marvin Hagler knocked down Thomas "Hit Man" Hearns and stopped him at 2:01 of the third round of a savage fight for Hagler's undisputed middleweight title Monday night.

Just moments after a doctor had been called into the ring to examine a bad cut over Hagler's right eye, the champion hurt Hearns with a right to the head and unleashed a barrage that dropped the challenger. Hearns struggled up but referee Richard Steele looked at him and stopped the bout.

In terms of action, it had to be one of the great, great fights. It more than lived up to the tremendous hype that preceded it.

"There is no doubt in my mind I will knock out Tommy Hearns," the 30-year-old Hagler said before his 11th defense.

From the opening bell, that's what Hagler set out to do.

Hagler attacked and attacked and attacked. The 6-foot-1 Hearns, the World Boxing Council super welterweight champion, fought back and fought back and fought back until he was simply overwhelmed by the savagery of the champion.

Hearns, who threw every punch in his arsenal but could not hold Hagler off, ripped a cut open over Hagler's right eye in the first round. Then the champion had a cut beneath the eye and his face was a bloody mess.
